Uyen Dung Vo

+1 (817) 374-0039
uyend.vo@gmail.com

uyendvo.com
github.com/uyen-vo

Objective

Seeking a full-time front end developer position

Education

Texas A&M University, 2015–2018
B.S. in Computer Science, College Station, TX
Minor in Graphic Design GPA 3.95

Skills

Angular/TypeScript, HTML/SCSS/JavaScript, Java/Spring
Software: IntelliJ IDEA, VS Code, Docker, Adobe Creative Suite
Misc: Node.js/npm, Linux, SQL, Agile, Git

Experience

Capital One
Software Engineer, September 2018-Feburary 2020
- Developed Spring Boot REST APIs to validate and approve customers for car loans and helped transition a Java monolith application into microservices
- Made various upgrades and managed CI/CD pipelines to an application that automatically provisions user accesses by executing Selenium scripts
- Gained experience with AWS, Docker, Jenkins, Tomcat, JUnit

Intern, Summer 2017
- Designed and developed an intake form to handle project requests
- Exercised UI/UX design principles and implemented both client-side and server-side form validations
- Utilized MEAN software stack with Angular for the front end

Projects

smartATM, June 2017   (GitHub)
Built a touchless, gesture-based ATM interface during the Capital One corporate hackathon; used a Leap Motion Controller for the motion sensor, vanilla HTML/CSS/JavaScript for the interface, and the Capital One Nessie API for bank data

America Feels, May 2017   (GitHub)
Built a web application that displays how America feels about a topic based on the Tweets people post; used the Twitter Streaming API to pull live data, Microsoft Cognitive API to analyze the Tweets, and d3.js to dynamically display the data on a U.S. map

Kanye Ipsum, December 2016   (GitHub)
Collaborated with a designer using Android Studio, Android APIs, and XML to create a Lorem Ipsum generator based on Kanye West quotes & lyrics; incorporated multithreading in the text generator algorithm to increase app speed and efficiency

Honors/Awards

President's Endowed Scholarship, August 2015
Four-year academic merit scholarship at Texas A&M
National Merit Finalist, May 2015
Granted by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation